

Introduction

EML Payment Solutions Limited (referred to as EML, us, our or we) are a product issuer and we issue non-cash payment facilities in the form of prepaid cards through the payment schemes (such as Mastercard and Visa). We are authorised and regulated by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC), with licence number 404131 and registered office located at Level 12, 333 Ann Street Brisbane QLD 4000.

The design and distribution obligations set out in Part 7.8A of the Corporations Act 2001 (DD Obligations) apply to the issue and distribution of non-cash payment facilities to retail clients (Consumers). Non-cash payment products are products that allow Consumers to make payments, otherwise than through the physical delivery of Australian or foreign currency (e.g. prepaid cards).

The purpose of this target market determination (TMD) is to describe the target market of Consumers for our prepaid cards to which the DD Obligations apply.

If you are a retail client, you should refer to the relevant Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) before deciding whether to acquire or continue to hold the relevant product. You can get a copy of the relevant PDS from the website of the distributor of the product subject to this TMD.

You should not base any decision to transact on the contents of this TMD.

Target Market

Class of Consumer

Likely objectives and needs

An employer who may be seeking a reloadable prepaid Card for use by their employees as part of a salary packaging arrangement administered by the distributor, which will allow the employee (as a Cardholder) to purchase eligible goods and services anywhere a prepaid Mastercard is accepted using salary sacrificed funds loaded onto the Card by the employer.

Likely financial situation

An employer who, at the time of application, has access to funds in Australian dollars to preload the Card and to pay fees.

Product Description

A reloadable prepaid Mastercard with the following key attributes:

- ability to purchase eligible goods and services electronically where Mastercard is accepted using value loaded onto the Card by an employer;
- ability to distinguish between eligible and non-eligible goods and services based on the categorisation of the merchant at the point of sale;
- based on the categorisation of the merchant at the point of sale, the ability to use funds allocated as 'living expenses' or 'meal entertainment', as determined by the relevant taxation laws, to complete a transaction;
- ability to load the Card to a digital wallet, allowing Cardholders to make purchases with eligible mobile devices; and
- a requirement to preload the Card and pay fees (including foreign exchange fees).

The product is only available to Consumers that meet the eligibility criteria for salary packaging arrangements administered by the distributor and complies with the relevant tax laws in Australia.

Appropriateness

The product (including its key attributes) is consistent with the objectives, financial situation and needs of Consumers as it provides the means for its employees to access the benefits of salary packaging arrangements to pay for goods and services under the relevant tax laws.

Distribution Conditions

Marketing and Promotion

A distributor must only market and promote the product through:

- advertising through media (including social media), physical marketing materials (such as banners, brochures or flyers) and any other marketing material available to the general public; and
- any other EML approved communication channels (including telephone, email and social media).

This condition is appropriate as the target market is wide.

Retail Product Distribution Conduct

A distributor must only engage in retail product distribution conduct (other than general advice):

- In relation to Consumers who engage the distributor to administer salary packaging arrangements;
- through:
  - the distributor's digital platform (such as their website or mobile app) and other EML approved third party digital platforms; or
  - any other EML approved communication channels including telephone, email and social media; and
- in circumstances where the distributor has obtained the relevant consents from the employer to offer the Card to it and its employees as Cardholders to purchase eligible goods and services where Mastercard is accepted.

This condition is appropriate as the target market is wide and it is the most appropriate method for Consumers within the target market to obtain the product. Such conduct poses limited risk to Consumers.
